Russia has come out against any inquiry or investigation

Soviet Delegate Andrei A Gromyko declared flatly during yesterday's debate he would not vote for any investigation such as that proposed by Hodgson As a result, most of the delegates had given up hope for unanimity.

The Australian proposal, as amended up to the close of yesterday's session, called for:

1. Creation of a five-man subcommittee to investigate whether the situation in Spain endangers international peace and security.

2. A declaration, similar to those made at Potsdam, San Francisco and London, condemning the Franco regime

This subcommittee would collect all pertinent evidence and documents which are available and sift the facts for presentation to the council as a whole It would have no authority to make recommendations

Source of Dispute

The latter point is where the controversy arises. The French and Polish delegates recommended the subcommittee be instructed to try to work out "practical measures" to be taken against the Franco regime, with the view of evolving a measure the council could adopt unanimously.

Gromyko said he would support such a proposal, although he was opposed to a subcommittee which would be limited to making an investigation.

OHIO PROBES LIQUOR LEAKS

State Acts To Halt Illegal Flow of Beverages to Nearby States.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 26 — The Ohio liquor control department acted today to halt alleged bootlegging of its unrationed whisky and gin supplies into neighboring states, especially West Virginia, by stopping all case-lot sales of the two varieties and requiring individual purchasers to show their ration cards.

A. I. Balmert, assistant director, sent a bulletin to all district supervisors, retail and wholesale store managers, and state liquor agencies declaring:

"From certain sections of the state we have complaints that our supply of unrationed whisky and dry gin is falling into the hands of bootleggers and out-of-state purchasers. Due to our inability at this time to secure greater quantities * * * to supply our needs, it therefore becomes necessary, until further notice, to restrict sales at retail."

Although most whisky is rationed in Ohio, brands made from cane spirits as well as gins, rums and brandies have been sold without restriction Balmert said there was no way of estimating how much of the unrationed varieties was finding it way across the Ohio river into West Virginia and Kentucky but added that retail permit holders had filed numerous complaints of inability to buy them

"The situation seems especially bad in eastern Ohio, in cities such as Steubenville, Bellaire, and the like," Balmert said "A lot also gets through Ironton into Kentucky."

Seek Showdown

Both Byrnes and Bidault are expected to press for Russian reconsideration, with Bidault reportedly ready to demand that a decision on the German issue be made today.

Molotov made no explanation yesterday of his reversal on allowing French observers to participate in discussion of the Balkan and Finland treaties. Under previous plans, adopted at Moscow last December, France was to participate only in the writing of the Italian treaty.

After Molotov's withdrawal of Soviet objections, the ministers decided that all four countries would attend discussions on all matters before the conference, but that votes would be limited to nations which had signed the armistice with the former enemy states involved.

with other plotters, he has related previously.

The American prosecution scored a coup by allowing Gisevius to be called as a defense witness, Counsel for Wilhelm Frick, once "protector of Bohemia and Moravia," said they had called him because Gisevius formerly worked for Frick in the Ministry of Interior.

Once on the stand, Gisevius started disclosing German secrets His testimony was particularly revealing about Hermann Goering, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel and Ernst Kaltenbrunner, although it scorched virtually every defendant except Hjalmar Schacht, once Reichsbank president. Gisevius identified Schacht as a companion plotter against Hitler.

Earlier in the day, Gisevius looked straight at Keitel and swore the former chief of the German army perverted his own and his army's honor by threatening subordinate officers who protested Gestapo atrocities.

In his third day on the stand before the international military tribunal, the witness also indicated Col Gen Gustav Jodl, last chief of staff of the German army, was a man "who had tremendous and disastrous influence with Hitler."

Suppressed Reports

"Keitel got detailed reports of atrocities—of mass murders in Poland, extermination of Jews, murders in Russia, of gas chambers and murder factories and of the persecution of churches," the former German secret police official declared under cross-examination by Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor.

"They were prepared and submitted to him by Canaris (Admiral Walter Wilhelm Canaris, chief of the wehrmacht's counter-intelligence) and Canaris' chief of staff," said Gisevius, summoned as a defense witness.

"these men pledged with Keitel to transmit them to Hitler and intervene to have the atrocities stopped. He was the only channel to Hitler.

"But Keitel held back reports and instead of protecting officers who protested these Gestapo crimes he repeatedly threatened them with dismissal and with Gestapo punishment. He actually fired many," Gisevius told the tribunal."

Prosecution sources regarded the testimony as particularly damaging to Keitel, who maintained in his defense that he was only a professional soldier carrying out military orders and was unaware of many Nazi excesses.

ignored the request for a review of intended shipments.

Hilldring asserted shipments actually had fallen short of minimum requirements approved by the commission. He likewise asserted in effect that a "no priority" policy for Japan had been pursued all along.

He later issued a supplementary statement declaring that food allocations to Japan "are, of course, subject to continuing review in the light of developing conditions."

British Move May Bring New Clash

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, April 26 — A British request for information on the Allied food policy in Japan developed today a strong possibility of another clash between the Allied four-power council and General MacArthur.

The British request stood out sharply in the light of the far eastern commission's recommendation that the United States send only enough food to Japan to "safeguard the Allied occupation forces." MacArthur's headquarters replied that Japan could not raise enough food in 1946 to meet the minimum needs of its people on "a disease and unrest basis."

BOOM BEGINS FOR PATTERSON

Congressmen Favor Secretary of War for Chief Justice; Truman Silent.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 26 — A quiet boom for the appointment of Secretary of War Robert P Patterson as Chief Justice of the United States is under way on Capitol Hill today with some Democratic and Republican support.

But reporters accompanying President Truman on his vacation cruise—interrupted yesterday to permit the Chief Executive to attend funeral services for Harlan F. Stone—said they had been told by White House aides the President thus far had given no consideration to a successor.

Most speculation has centered around the idea that Mr Truman might elevate a sitting justice to the post Stone held and designate a Republican to the vacancy thus created Justices Robert H Jackson, Stanley F Reed, William O Douglas and Hugo L. Black all have been mentioned in this connection.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) noted that if Mr. Truman followed this procedure it would be the exception, rather than the rule

Taft said his father, while President first broke the precedent by elevating Edgar D White a Louisiana Democrat, from associate to Chief Justice President Roosevelt followed suit 31 years later by appointing Stone, a Republican

No other Chief Justice was a member of the court at the time of his appointment

Taft told a reporter he thought Patterson would be acceptable to senate Republicans, should Mr Truman decide to name him

An administration supporter, who asked not to be quoted by name, said it was his understanding that Patterson, a Republican and a former circuit court of appeals judge, had been offered a place on the high bench before Justice Harold H Burton was named from the senate

Because he lacked an experienced man to take Patterson's place in the cabinet, however, the President was reported to have reconsidered with an explanation of why he was doing so. There was speculation that he might now reopen discussions with Patterson.

Seek To Make All Eligible To Operate Station.

Seven employes of the city police department took federal communication commission examinations for radio chief telephone operator licenses Thursday in the municipal courtroom, it was announced by Chief of Police William E. Marks today.

If all the applicants pass, Chief Marks said, it will make the police force 100 per cent eligible to operate police radio equipment. Most of the applicants were newly appointed patrolmen and three recently returned from the armed forces

Taking the test were patrolmen Floyd Wilson, Virgil Campbell, George Manley, Leo Shedaker, John Richardson and Carl Mest Daniel and police clerk Irene Gantt The examination papers will be sent to Detroit for grading Last examination was given about four years ago, Chief Marks said The test was given under the supervision of Edwin B Spohn, city solicitor, and was one and a half hours long

Chief Marks said the restricted licenses held by the members of the police force do not permit them to do repair work on the police radios The examination covered the field of correct announcing, identification and other radio procedure laid down by the FCC

The police radio system was installed about six years ago, according to Chief Marks and will soon include three cars and two motorcycles The cars are equipped with two way radio and the motorcycles with one way The police radio station's call letters are WJJI It has a power of 200 watts

Yorkshire Unhappy As England Digs Up Famed Park for Coal

Solemnly, a Wentworth miner ... in the direction of a huge ... stovel digging more than ... underground to the layer of ...

"It's not even proper coal they ...ething," he said. "It's noth... ...ing but dirt. I wouldn't burn it myself."

"It was the only bit of scenery we had around here," his companion grumbled, watching a 60-foot beech tree crash to the ground. "Now they're taking it from us."

For years the people of Wentworth—mostly poor miners—have accepted having their fields and hills and woods plowed under for open surface or strip mining. They didn't object when the destructive shovels first entered the Wentworth estate two years ago. But as the mining project crept nearer the famed gardens and deer park they started a fuss heard all over Yorkshire.

They protested through mining associations, the press, the house of commons, they asked if underground mining couldn't be used to save the park surface. The owner of the estate, Earl Fitzwilliam, made a last appeal to the prime minister.

The outcome of the interview was not announced. But Minister of Fuel Emmanuel Shinwell said mining in Wentworth park would "proceed as planned." The coal could be removed and the land reconstructed, he said, in "a twelvemonth."

One little man with a heavy Scottish accent packed dirt around some uprooted white star flowers and placed them beside daffodils he'd collected earlier.

"I'll save these anyway," he said. And then, looking at the solemn-faced bystanders, "to the people around here Earl Fitzwilliam is their king. They think it's a crime to tear up his park."

NEARLY 3,000 PUPILS GIVEN X-RAY TESTS

Mobile Unit at Harding Gym Again Today.

Nearly 3,000 junior and senior high school pupils from city and county schools have been given X-ray tests in the first three days of the Marion County Anti-tuberculosis league's mass X-ray program, according to league officials today.

During yesterday's schedule 1,343 pupils of Harding High and Central Junior High were X-rayed at the Harding High school gymnasium and between 40 and 50 persons took tests at last night's public session, according to reports.

The league's mobile X-ray unit was at the Harding gym again this morning where it checked students from the upper six grades of St. Mary and the balance of pupils of Central Junior High. This afternoon the unit moved to LaRue where it was examining pupils from LaRue, Montgomery and New Bloomington schools. Tonight the X-ray program will close with a public examination at LaRue between 7 and 8 p. m. All pre-school children are examined free and adults pay 75c to cover the cost of materials used in the X-rays.

Total number so far X-rayed is 2,894. Nearly 500 more are expected to be checked during today's program. The testing service is sponsored by the Anti-tuberculosis league with the cooperation of the boards of health and education. Where symptoms of tuberculosis are found students are referred to their family physicians.

HIGHWAY DIRECTOR KIWANIS SPEAKER

Perry T. Ford Discusses Road Improvement Program.

Perry T. Ford, director of the public highway department for the state of Ohio, was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday at Hotel Harding.

An explanation of the work of his department, and a report on the condition of highways in the state, was the main theme of the talk by Mr. Ford. He explained that through cooperation with the states which border Ohio, highways which join states will be constructed the same in each of the states.

Mr. Ford stated that it has been a decision of all states to work out a system whereby the width of the roads will take care of the necessary traffic. The highway department is working to eliminate accidents on the highways through better traffic conditions and wider roads.

He stated that the department today is in better condition than in several years past, and that a reconstruction program is in progress.

Members of the club who celebrated birthday anniversaries in April were honored and were presented small gifts. They were E. Paul Bachman, Dr. A. B. Lawson, Dr. G. G. Nuetzel, William L. Mackenzie Hails Army Crackdown on ETO Troops

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A P News Analyst

It's bad news that there has been such a serious deterioration of morale and discipline among American troops "in certain localities and commands" of Europe the U. S. Commanding General Joseph T. McNarney has found it necessary to inaugurate drastic remedial measures. It's decidedly good news that he has taken vigorous action.

General McNarney's blunt designation of the offenses which have brought about this situation probably will shock the home-folk, although there has been plenty of warning in news dispatches over a considerable period. Among the things the commander lists are participation in black market activities, drunkenness, a high absent-without-leave rate and other disciplinary infractions, an excessive venereal disease rate, and a complaining attitude toward constituted military authority.

DewittMackenzie

That's hard to believe, isn't it? But there it is in black and white, although one hastens to emphasize that this stigma doesn't by any means attach to Uncle Sam's European forces as a whole. Anyway it's a grave epidemic to be circulating among our men, and you can take it from me that the reaction among our Allies definitely is not good.

Saw It Personally

I ran into this at first hand during my recent tour in Europe, and reported on it in this column. The other Allied forces already had taken cognizance of it and were much concerned although naturally close-mouthed. The main fears were that, if the deterioration in morale spread, it might (1) weaken American determination to see the long term of occupation through, and that (2) the Germans might lose respect for Uncle Sam's authority in the Reich.

As a matter of fact, I was told by competent sources that the effect on the Germans was definitely hurtful in those American areas which had become infected with this plague. The only things to which the people of the fatherland respond readily are force and stern discipline. The moment discipline is relaxed, they relax with it.

I'm afraid it must be recorded that well intentioned, but misguided folk back home here in America have been responsible to a considerable degree for the slump in morale overseas. For many months letters from relatives and friends in the United States poured into the occupied zones, beseeching their soldiers to come home and preaching the unfairness of keeping them there after the war was finished. That persistent hammering worried a lot of the boys and made them homesick and discontented. It was an easy step for some to break the rules.

Morals Drop Too

One unsavory aspect of the slump in morale is that it has been accompanied by a slump in morals which has resulted in much fraternization between American soldiers and German women. There are few things calculated to do more damage to American authority over the conquered Hitlerites.

It isn't surprising that General McNarney records an excessive venereal rate. Germany is full of venereal disease, and so are many other parts of Europe for that matter. What else could be expected when Hitler deliberately encouraged immorality in order to breed more soldiers?

The hope is that General McNarney's vigorous action has come in time to repair the damage already done. It would be a disaster if the situation weren't restored.

Honest Difference of Opinion

WHETHER Senator Vandenberg knew last Monday when he urged approval of the $3,250,000,000 credit to Britain that Senator Taft would speak against the proposal on Wednesday is uncertain.

Senator Vandenberg was set to leave for Europe Tuesday morning, spoke out of turn, acknowledging that he recognized the right of Senator Taft and other members of the senate banking and currency committee to be heard first.

These two speeches express an honest difference of opinion between the Republican party's two strongest senators. Senator Vandenberg, the party's most respected spokesman on foreign affairs, believes the credit would be advanced on grounds of American self-interest. He sees it as the means of bolstering freedom against the relentless assault of regimented ism. Admitting the possibility he might be wrong, he said last Monday: "If I am wrong, the cost will be relatively small in comparison with the total problem. If they (the credit opponents) are wrong, the cost would be immense and could be catastrophic. I choose the latter gamble in the expectation that events will vindicate this action."

Senator Taft's position is not exactly against helping Great Britain. It is against helping Great Britain in a way that would obligate it to repay the money advanced. He would give Britain an outright grant, instead, as a kind of additional payment on the friendly plan known as lend-lease during wartime. This grant, or gift, amounting to $1,250,000,000, would have to be spent in the United States within three years.

The obvious merit in the Taft proposal is its avoidance of the inevitable complications from "loans" that are not, in fact, loans at all but gestures of confidence. While it might hurt British pride to accept a gift, the fact is that British pride has withstood the shock of the unpaid loans still due from World War I, the unpayable advance made under lend-lease in World War II and should have no more trouble with a gift under its right name than with a loan it couldn't repay anyway.

Neither senator has put enough stress on the probability that whatever is advanced, either as a loan or a gift, will be followed in due time by further loans and or gifts. In other words, if 1946 finds the United States advancing $3,250,000,000 or $3,750,000,000, the chances are more will be forthcoming before 1950. For anyone to believe that the British empire, saddled with debt, socialism and political unrest, can be put back in top-top condition for a few billion dollars is absurd.

We believe Senator Vandenberg is right when he says it is in our self-interest to do what we can, but we believe Senator Taft is right when he says we're trying should be done under right names, always remembering that the American taxpayer's dollar, when invested abroad by a political decision, should be secured by something more tangible than a politician's promise.

Henry's Rope Trick

HENRY WALLACE, pursuing the idea that Democrats who stray from the party line should be purged in the authoritarian manner, has moved a little closer to the reductio ad absurdum where the half-baked logic of his idea will boomerang. In his latest speech, he said congressmen who vote against the party's leader should be denied committee memberships and patronage.

No one, it's a safe bet, is going to make a move to save him from getting further involved in this matter. He deserves the consequences. With the possible exception of lurking authoritarians who use him to grind their ax, Mr. Wallace has no friends in politics, only acquaintances who tolerate him because they haven't been able to get rid of him.

The reductio ad absurdum of his notion that party members should be purged for not voting the party line is, of course, the equally logical rebuttal that if the party line is to be compulsory it should be compulsory for members of the party to be consulted about it. The dissident Democrats Wallace wants to purge are not voting contrary to politics they helped to make but to policies made in their behalf by Mr. Wallace and his gang, who are not even Democrats.

The inconsistency of his position must eventually be discovered by Mr. Wallace if he keeps on talking, unless he has in mind something like the Communist party, whose party line is laid down by whatever faction happens to control it at the moment. In either case, Mr. Wallace promises to hang himself in his political rope.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Byrnes Sees Need of Prayer at Peace Parley.

WASHINGTON, April 26 — Mr. Byrnes said when he departed on his flight to Paris that "nothing is the need of prayer" to guide a happy outcome. He did not say otherwise either statement or comment at the conference may have appeared, according to my observers. He offered the Lord's partner personally.

A protestant prayer is offered on the supposition that he need no greater prayer than "Thy Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

The pessimism left to the meeting by the failure of the council of ministers to work out the final peace treaties has caused concern among the high diplomats. The suggestion that we might be compelled even to make separate treaties came from a very high quarter. However, we were reassured to do this by failure of negotiations after the last war. Unquestionably the attitude taken by Russia at the conference and the degree to which it is pressed, will be the deciding factor.

British Reluctant

The talk in diplomatic circles has suggested that the British may not care to go that far. On the other hand, some indications from Russian quarters have suggested that if we advanced further concessions on the Dardanelles, continued occupation of Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary, and may not press for occupation of the Dodecanese islands and Trieste, it appears it will be difficult to get Turkey to agree to foreign fortifications on her soil and a compromise on that basis may prove to be difficult.

The Italian treaty also is a serious stumbling block, and there are many others. As a matter of fact about all that seems to be even agreed upon is that there should be peace treaties and the final principles on which they should be made. Whatever decisional questions arise in dealing with the Russians, trouble always seems to develop.

As a matter of fact, Byrnes did not know when he left whether Molotov, the foreign minister and right hand man of Stalin, would go to the conference or Vishinsky. While Vishinsky is very highly regarded in diplomatic quarters, he does not qualify in rank with either the British foreign minister or the American secretary of state. Some of Byrnes' friends believe that if Molotov came, it would augur well for the success of the meeting, but if Vishinsky was sent, it would indicate that the negotiators would run into the same difficulties which they have had before.

Predicts Byrnes Will Win

My guess is that the firmness of Mr. Byrnes' position will win as at the meeting as it has at the UN security council sessions on Iran. When that issue was brought into the council the last time by Russia, applicants of appeasement were raising, at least privately, Russia had more votes than we had, or the issue would be very close, the most authentic predicting a vote of only six to five in our favor. After frank discussion, the vote wound up eight to three against the Soviet move to get the council to drop the issue.

To Organize Organized Baseball?

In Boston, a new union has been formed—of professional baseball players.

What one wonders, are they going to demand: bigger bats, faster innings and time-and-a-half for night games?

Or dugout-to-dugout pay?

It'd really be something, after a dubious decision, to see the umpire's grievance committee come charging out on the field to negotiate with the umpire.

A lot of players will join the new union, if only to improve their batting averages. No good union man is going to put another out, even if he is a member of another local.

If labor organizes baseball, it'll just be a question of time—the Petrillo influence being what it is—before we have six men in every outfield.

Maybe I'm just old-fashioned. But somehow I prefer baseball the way it is now—when only umpires call the strikes.

King Awaits Greek Vote

Many Predict George II Will Return to Throne.

By ROBERT HEWETT
Associated Press Writer

LONDON — Greeks who know (lucky), he-spectacled King George II, who has been exiled from Greece three times in less than 20 years, are confident he will return once more to his throne in Athens.

King George has maintained discreet silence on political events in civil war-torn Greece but he has sent Col. Dimitros Lividis, master of the royal household, back to Athens and informed sources said the monarch was expecting to be recalled by the new pro-royalist government before many months have passed.

Only last fall many Greek political observers gave the king less than a 50-50 chance of regaining power. But the Populist (monarchist) party victory in the March elections brought a new air of optimism to the book-lined suite of Claridge's hotel where George has held informal "court" during much of the Nazi occupation and succeeding liberation.

Maintained His Prerogatives

King George has kept closely informed on Greek developments since he went into virtual seclusion after the 1944 civil war and his appointment of Archbishop Damaskinos as regent.

His last public statement was in November 1945 when he issued a strong protest against the regent's postponement of a plebiscite on the monarchy to 1948. Post-election statements of Populist leaders indicate they also favor an immediate poll on restoration of the king.

The sprucely-dressed, balding king often strolled unnoticed along Mayfair streets as he lived the quiet life of hundreds of others who took refuge in Britain.

Today, informed sources said,

KING GEORGE II

King George II of the Hellenes is more of a force in Greek politics than at any time since the German invasion in April 1941.

Diplomatic couriers travel between Athens and London on the king's errands and he is reported in close contact with the new government leaders.

On Again, Off Again

George's first experience as an exile was in 1917, when he was crown prince. He joined his father, King Constantine, in exile in Switzerland when the king abdicated under Allied pressure because of alleged pro-German sentiments.

George succeeded to the throne in 1922 ad went into his second period of exile the next year when a republic was proclaimed.

In 1935, he was recalled to the throne when the monarchy was restored and he reigned in Athens until driven out by the Germans in 1941.

BALTIMORE—The ancient Egyptians were troubled with baldness, too. Their prescription for falling hair, as quoted in a Johns Hopkins journal, was: "Feet of a dog one part; rope dates, one part; ass's hoof, one part. Boil carefully in a pan of oil and use to rub in." If that didn't help, they had an alternative remedy. "Equal parts of writing ink and cerebrospinal fluid."

Books Returned

By The Associated Press

ROME—Eighteen freight cars, manned and guarded by American troops, recently brought back to Rome 2,000 crates containing 200,000 rare and priceless books from two libraries carted off by the Germans.

Arrival of the libraries in Rome ended a two-year quest by scholars from Allied, enemy and neutral nations during and after the war. The books finally were found by American soldiers hidden in castles and salt mines in Austria.

One collection of nearly 130,000 irreplaceable volumes, collected over a century, was housed in the German Archeological Institute in Rome. The Institute's library, built up by scholars of all nations who came to Rome to study, contained valuable source material dealing with the archeology of ancient Greece and Rome.

The 700,000 other volumes taken by the Nazis were from the Hertziana Library, devoted to art history of the Renaissance.

Communism and the theories being propounded to solve the country's economic situation are yearly problems, Rev. Harold D. Halderman told a large audience of Sons of the Leg'on, Boy Scouts and members of Fire Memorial Baptist church in a boys' week sermon on "The Future's Challenge to Youth."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, April 26, 1926.

Spring gave way to winter in Cleveland and northern Ohio counties as a regular Christmas snow squall blew in from Lake Erie, covering everything with a mantle of white. The mercury dropped to 31 degrees above zero during the flurry which lasted several hours.

Col. J. H. Rumey was elected brigadier general of the Ohio Brigade, Knights of Pythias at the state election meeting held at Mansfield.

Burglars broke into the H. B. Ward department store in Bucyrus and escaped with more than $800 worth of silk goods and $60 in cash.

Mrs. Lulu Merchant, Mrs. Charles W. Davison, Mrs. O. G. Briggs, Mrs. J. M. Parshall, Mrs. D. E. Montgomery and Miss Carrie Bain were elected delegates to the state G. A. R. convention at Portsmouth in June, at a meeting of Harriet Beecher Stowe Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans.

War Orphans Find Refuge

Small Hostels in England House Homeless Waifs.

LINGFIELD, SURREY — Six hundred orphans now survived the horrors of Auschwitz, Ravensbruck, Dachau and Belsen are being nursed back to health and happiness in small hostels scattered over England.

More are arriving every day by British troop transport to fill the country's quota of 1,000 under a rehabilitation scheme sponsored by UNRRA.

Their lives have been saved but their future is still uncertain. UNRRA authorities said national and international laws make them adoption difficult, and so far no master plan has been made for them to re-enter a normal, civilized world.

Bedtime is the most poignant hour of the day for the 23 orphans, ages 4 to 18 housed here in the old world mansion of Sir Benjamin Drage. The children are happy and busy all day, but when games are put aside and each child is faced into his own problems, the look of fear and terror grow wistful and they cling around the necks of the older orphans acting as "little mothers to the younger children."

Study Language

Those of school age go each day to the little school in the village, where they are learning English.

They have not forgotten their experiences. One little ten-year-old girl cries bitterly at night. "Don't hurt my little brother—please don't take him away!" she pleads. Her brother cannot be found.

When the children first arrived at the canal they were given into custody by the agent of Sir Benjamin Drage Alliance. The only clues they knew were the German police cards which identified the camps and were used to determine the ages.

Under the care of the Jewish Relief Committee, the children are being given all the love and attention which their shattered emotions and a craving for affection. Next to happiness a pride of possession is evident in each child. Pathetic hoardings—bits of string, pathetic hoardings—bits of string, pathetic hoardings—bits of string,

COLUMBUS O April 26—Gov Robert S Kerr of Oklahoma says the Republican party's leadership is limited on only one program—"A continuing investigation of Pearl Harbor"

The Oklahoma Democrat made his assertion last night before some 700 Ohio Democratic party members who consumed a $25 a plate dinner climaxing the party's annual Andrew Jackson day celebration

The Republicans have too many old men who can't escape from the shadows of the past and too many young men who can not emerge from the shadows of the old men Kerr asserted

The Republican leadership is working a deal on everything others are building rather than striving to build new ethical basis and are seeking to divide the people for partisan profit when there should be greater unity for the general welfare he declared

"The Republican leadership does not have one program on which it seems to have achieved complete unity They are resolved only their records would justify the American people to believe that they have dedicated themselves henceforth and forever to a continuing investigation of Pearl Harbor"

Kerr principal speaker at the gathering paid his respects to the immortal Franklin D Roosevelt and the magnificent Harry Truman

Taking up post-war political issues Kerr said "the Office of Price Administration has done a magnificent job in holding down living costs of the average family

Until a better way is found or until supply is in reasonable balance with consumer demand it must be maintained he said

Conspicuously absent from the dinner was Gov Frank J Lausche titular head of the Ohio Democrats He paid his $25 but elected to attend an American Newspaper Publishers association meeting in New York instead of the local party

Marion Has PAID For a Whole New Set of School Buildings — BUT, HAS NEVER GOTTEN THEM!

Here are some friendly, but frank thoughts for your consideration:

TODAY Marion ought to be a city of at least 45,000. Many other cities have grown as much or more WITHOUT our natural geographical and economic advantages.

Marion is nowhere near that big and if it doesn't grow any faster than it has during the past 15 years it may NEVER reach that size.

The big reason why Marion county LOST population between 1930 and 1940 (and only 5 Ohio counties lost population in that period) is because we citizens have LET MARION GO TO SEED.

Back in 1936 and 1938 it would have been wise to get our city ready to attract new industries and new population. WE DIDN'T. We Were asleep; or we were jealous of each other; or we weren't pulling together; or we listened to the "aginners"; or we felt Marion was good enough as it was. We've paid dearly for this attitude.

In the meantime, the citizens of Middletown, Newark, Mansfield, Columbus, Galion, Bucyrus, Hamilton, Cincinnati, Tiffin and Coshocton, to name a few, GOT TOGETHER. They did the things necessary to attract new industries—and they got them. If Marion had grown the average percentage those cities have grown we would have had our 45,000.

You've heard people say, "What's the matter with Marion?" Well, let's look.

Suppose we had been farsighted and done the things to Marion which would have made it desirable and attractive to new people, like other cities did. Here's what would have happened.

Those new thousands of people, and those new plants which have turned us down over the past 7 or 8 years, would have paid as their fair share of additional taxes approximately two and a quarter of a million dollars (2,225,000.00). That would have PAID our whole bill for new and improved school buildings and more. Those plants would have paid out about thirty million ($30,000,000) new dollars in payrolls which would have been spent for shoes, clothes, groceries, rents and the other necessities of life and that again would bring in new taxes.

In addition our properties would have been worth more, there would have been more job opportunities at good wages; there would have been more homes built; and we would have had a better city from every standpoint.

If we had those extra citizens and plants, they would have paid enough in taxes to Marion, INSTEAD of to SOME OTHER CITY, to build new schools, newsewers, a new airport, recreation centers and lots of other city betterments that WE could have enjoyed "for free". So, our backwardness has cost us enough to build them, but we never got them. We've paid dearly for it.

That isn't dreaming. These are facts. City growth works that way. We've got to get our city ready FIRST then the people will come here to live and establish plants. To say, "let them come, THEN we'll take care of them", doesn't work. We've proven that.

Why didn't these people and plants come to Marion?

There is one big reason why Marion hasn't grown more lately. It's the fellow who votes "NO" on bond issues. You can charge him with the bill of keeping Marion from growing. He may have good reasons of his own. If so, he's entitled to them as a citizen.

BUT, if YOU WANT Marion to grow and be a better city, you should vote FOR the school bond issue. Your dollars will return many times.

If you are not yet sold on the School Bond Issue . . .
Think this over. It may help you decide.

NO ONE CAN BE HARMED BY HAVING NEW AND BETTER SCHOOL BUILDINGS NOW!

Thanks for reading this, neighbor.

Newhouser and Greenberg Gang Up To Lift Tigers into Loop Lead

Joe Tinker Tells Story of Feud with Evers

"Trapping" Broke Up Long Silence of Two-Thirds of Famous Double Play Combine.

—AP Newsfeatures

TALLAHASSEE, Fla — Joe Tinker says the old story that he and Johnny Evers played for years in the famous Chicago Cubs' Tinker-Evers-Chance infield without speaking "just kinda grown with the years."

He recalls their relations this way.

"We didn't get along at all when we first played together so decided we'd do better work on the field if we just kept our mouths shut and didn't even speak.

"I used to take the signs from the catcher on steals and would signal Evers what to do. This actually went on for two years without a word between us, although I believe we led the league in double plays both seasons.

"A simple little incident pushed things up.

"We were playing in Philadelphia and it was before the infield fly rule—you could trap a fly ball and make a double play in those days.

"With a runner on first, the batter popped one straight up in the air towards me. Just as I was about to catch it Evers yelled 'trap it.'

"I let it hit the ground and it went through me for a double.

"Chance, who was the manager, wanted to know what had happened as we came in to the bench a few minutes later. When I told him he said there would be no more 'trapping' on the Chicago team.

"The whole thing struck the rest of the gang as funny that night at the hotel, especially the newspaper boys and Evers. Soon we were all laughing and the scribes decided it was a good time to get us to make up.

"We shook hands, had a couple of beers together and have been friends ever since."

JOE TINKER
"Friends Ever Since"

NAMED TO BASEBALL'S HALL OF FAME—Johnny Evers (above), member of the famous Chicago Cubs' double play combination of Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance, was among 11 new members elected to baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y. He is shown in Albany, N. Y., where he has been bedridden for several years. He said he was very glad his old teammates, Joe Tinker and Frank Chance, were selected also. Selections were made by a special old-timers committee, named by the late Commissioner K. M. Landis to honor players who might otherwise never be elected. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

Hal Grabs Third Straight As Hank Has Perfect Day

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hurricane Hal Newhouser and Hammering Hank Greenberg, a pair of old hands at coming through in the clutch for the world champion Detroit Tigers, are still up to their old tricks and as a result the Bengals are reposing unmolested today at the top of the American league.

The two Tiger stalwarts, who combined their special talents—Greenberg with a grand slam homer and Newhouser with a splendid relief job—to defeat the St. Louis Browns in the final game of the 1945 season for the American league flag collaborated once more yesterday to vanquish the Browns again 6-5.

The victory enabled the Tigers to take over undisputed possession of first place from the New York Yankees who dropped into a second place tie with Boston by losing to the Red Sox 12-5.

No. 3 for Hal

Newhouser despite one bad inning in which he yielded all the enemy runs, southpawed his way to his third straight triumph of the young season. He gave up seven hits in pitching his third complete game and fanned seven to increase his strikeout output to 22 in 27 frames.

Greenberg enjoyed a perfect day at the dish with two doubles, a single and a free ticket to first. The reconverted first baseman batted in a run and scored two more including the important tying marker in the eighth. A single by Birdie Tebbetts followed a moment later to send in Roy Cullenbine with the winning run. Greenberg's trio of base knocks raised his eight-game batting average to a gaudy .400 with seven of his nine hits good for extra bases.

Led by Johnny Peske and Eddie Pellagrini, the Red Sox reversed Yesterday's 12-5 beating by pounding four New York hurlers for 13 hits including a homer, triple and double by Pellagrini and two doubles and a brace of singles by Peacy. Right Joe Dobson held the Yanks to nine hits for his second triumph.

Dodgers Take Over

Brooklyn's dazzling Dodgers moved into undisputed possession of first place in the National league without even having to lift a little finger as the St. Louis Cardinals, who shared the top berth with the Brooks slid down to second spot by bowing to the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3.

A long home run belt by Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner that travelled fully 450 feet literally knocked the cards out of the lead. Kiner's blow came with one on in the third and tagged Harry (The Cat) Brecheen with his second defeat of the season. Ken Heintzelman, who handed the Redbirds their other loss on opening day in St. Louis, also was returned the winner although he was forced to leave in the seventh inning due to a blistered finger.

The Cincinnati Reds squeezed their 1945 Newness, the Chicago Cubs, for the first time in four meetings this season with a 7-5 victory. Three Cub miscues gave the Reds as many runs in the seventh inning and enabled starter Hank Borowy for the second straight time this year. It was only the Reds' second win over the Bruins in 26 meetings over a two-year-span. Cub rookie outfielder Marv Rickert's perfect five for five went to waste.

Miller in RBI Lead

Cincinnati may be next to last in the standings but one Redleg is without peer—for the moment—in the National league.

The top-notcher is Eddie Miller, veteran shortstop, who drove in three runs yesterday to boost his RBI total to 11—two more than the ted runners-up Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves.

Here's what happened in the stretch frame as Cincinnati came to bat trailing 4-3:

Pitcher Johnny Hetki who had relieved Bucky Walters at the start of the fifth, was safe on Bob Sturgeon's error at short. Lonnie Frey and Mize McCormick singled to load the bases. Hetki scored as the opposing hurler, Hank Borrowy, fumbled Grady Hatton's roller. Frey was forced at the plate but McCormick and Hatton scored as catcher Tommy Livingston threw in right field trying for a double play.

Cincinnati got 10 hits off Borrowy and his successors Paul Erickson and Bush, one less than Chicago got off Bucky Walters Hetki and Clayton Lambert.

The New York Giants suffered a blow as they bowed to the Boston Braves for the second straight time, 5-4.

The Chicago White Sox finally combined tight pitching and stout hitting as they thrashed the Cleveland Indians 11-2 on a 17-hit assault.

Quinn To See About Luring Big Leaguers Here for Exhibition

J. A. (Eck) Quinn, former Marion baseball player recently elected to baseball's honor roll, will see what he can do about bringing a major league club to Marion for an exhibition game, according to a letter sent to Bill Hogan of the Kumfort Hotel. Hogan is a former teammate of Quinn, and longtime friend and correspondent.

Quinn is the former president of the Boston Braves, a position now held by his son John.

Hogan is an old time player who started with Marion High school about 1900 although he attended St. Mary when and no team. He organized a ball team known as "Hogan's Runts" later played in the old Western league and finished his 15-year career with a four-year period with the Nebraska Indians.

Lord Boswell Wins, Favored for Derby

By The Associated Press

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 26—This, said Eddie Arcaro, beaming, is "one helluva horse when you dig into him."

Eddie's won three Kentucky Derbies and is trying for a fourth this year. No jockey has won four derbies since the birth of the race in 1875.

Eddie was beaming because he'd just steered the stretch-sizzler, Lord Boswell, to a neck decision in the Blue Grass stakes at Keeneland, which immediately put Boswell's bouncing boy front and center as the Derby favorite. And the way he came from far back to hang his stylish snout on the wire made it look as if Eddie might get that fourth win at Churchill Downs May 4.

WMRN Broadcasts Slugfest Tonight

Kayo-minded Charley Fusari and Mexico's firebrand, Humberto Zavala (above) headline the fistic menu in New York tonight. Popular Bill Corum and fast-talking Don Dunphy will report this ten-round welter attraction over the ABC network.

Fusari, New Jersey's newest bid for high welter honors, has an unbeaten record of 40 fights, with 27 knockouts. A straight, stand-up fighter, the Jerseyite has devastating dynamite in both mitts. He also boxes skillfully.

In facing Zavala, Fusari tackles a burst of fury, who always turns in a sharp performance. Humberto is a slam-bang fighter and master of the "switch" style which confuses many opponents. The sock trade looks for a rip-snorter.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1490 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

Irish To Face Marysville Ace in Opening Tilt Here Saturday

Noel Howard, Union Co. Flash, Will Test First St. Mary Team in Years.

St. Mary's Irish may run into a hornet's nest in their first baseball game in the school's history Saturday at 2:30 against Marysville at Elks park. The chief stinger probably will be a southpaw pitcher named Noel Howard.

The 160-pound Union county senior has a very fast ball and good control. He has pitched two complete games for Marysville this season and part of another. In that time he has walked only one man.

Coach Prabes Star

The two times Marysville has bested Richwood, 5-3 and 8-5, Noel Howard during the pitching in those games he was never behind the batter. Coach Al L. Wagner of Marysville says he has never seen a class C or D professional pitcher with as much on the ball.

Against Howard, Irish Coach Melvin Irvin will start Tom McCarthy. McCarthy has looked very good in workouts. Irvin reports that he has a lot of confidence in Joe Pasquale on the battery mate.

The Irish mentor will start Bob Irvin at first base, Edmund Burke at second, John Baldauf at third, Bob Winterstein at shortstop, Gene Norris or Dan Sweeney at left field, Bob Prunty in center and either Fred Sampson or Boo Armbruster in right.

Relief pitcher Walter Anderson suffered a wrist injury in football last season and may not be able to do any of the hurling Saturday. Outfielder Dan Smith will double on relief pitching duties.

Irvin Confident

Irvin said today that if the club can get Noel on fielding and hitting, St. Mary will take them. Howard or no Howard.

Widner said Don Smith will catch Howard Saturday. He reports that the two work very well together.

At first base he will start Bob Sandy. Bill Wall will be on second, Dean Schneberger on third, Richard Hornbeck at shortstop, Don Grieme in the left field, Red Grimes in center and Dale Bell in right. Some better is also a relief pitcher.

COOPER HURT IN GAME

NEW YORK, April 26 — The New York Giants will be without the services of their $175,000 catcher, Walker Cooper, for the next four weeks according to Dr. Francis Sweeny, club physician, who reported the receiver suffered a fracture of the little finger on his right hand in yesterday's game with the Boston Braves.

BABE RUTH MAY BOSS MEXICAN LOOP TEAM

Bambino Hints He Might Come Down To Check Up.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 26—The one and only Babe Ruth, baseball's red Sultan of Swat, may get a chance to manage a club in the Mexican Baseball league and fulfill one of his most cherished ambitions.

The great Bambino, an idol to thousands of both grownups and youngsters, hinted at this development early today when asked comment on reports that Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican circuit had contacted him.

"I haven't heard a thing as yet," declared the slugger whose homers in 1927 still stands as a major league record. "I might come down there for a visit and look over the situation."

"But I wouldn't be interested as a player," he added emphatically.

Everybody has been asking me if I plan to go down there," he continued. "But no one has made me an offer." He paused, then added: "As yet."

Inter-City Tourney Keglers Roll Tonight

Three Marion doubles teams and nine from Delaware will roll this week's session of the Inter-City tournament tonight at the Marion Recreation alleys. It will mark the first time Inter-City bowling has started on Friday, the tourney previously having been restricted to weekends.

Marion bowlers are Greene and Shoemaker, Tarr and Wolfard, and Barber and Jones. Delaware teams are Chase and Gilliland, Senft and Hopper, Smiley and DeMuesey, Mayer and Hilborn, Thompson and Johnson, Watson and Foster, Rowland and King, Burchard and Groat, and Hurd and Van Brimmer.

WOMEN SET TO OPEN HEADPIN TOURNEY

More Than 100 in Competition Starting Tomorrow.

More than 100 women bowlers plan to enter a women's headpin tournament starting tomorrow at Marion Recreation alleys, Jim Kayatin, proprietor of the alleys and organizer of the tournament, announced today.

A new type of tournament for Marion, headpin tournaments have proved very popular in Akron, Dayton and other Ohio cities, Kayatin says. It will start Saturday at noon and will continue through midnight May 5.

In a headpin tourney the bowler gets only one ball a frame, or 12 during a game. He must hit the head pin, which is painted red for better visability, or he gets no credit for the frame. A perfect game is 120. Games will be bowled in units of three and prizes will be given for high single game, high second game and third game of a three-game series, high first and third, lowest game and several other combinations. Any Marion woman bowler is eligible. It is not necessary to belong to a league. Reservations are not needed to roll.

Many members of the Ladies' All Star league, Monday Night Ladies' league and Universal Cooler Women's league, as well as independent bowlers have entered so far, Kayatin said.

First prize will be a bowling ball donated by the Marion Recreation alleys and second prize will be a bowling bag donated by the Palace Recreation alleys. Several other cash prizes and gifts of merchandise have been given by local merchants.

Joe Birmingham Dies; Oldtime Tribe Boss

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 26 — Joe (Dode) Birmingham, who died late Wednesday night in Tampico, Mexico is remembered here as a former playing manager of the Cleveland Baseball club.

At the time of his death, which was caused by a heart attack, Birmingham was serving as an umpire in the Mexican league. He was about 60 years old.

A native of Elmira, N. Y., Birmingham began his playing career there and came up to the Cleveland club, then known as the Naps. In the latter part of the 1906 season, as a centerfielder.

In 1912 he became a playing manager, succeeding Harry Davis, and continued in that role until the end of the 1914 race. In 1915 when the club became the Indians, he piloted the squad from the bench, and during the season was replaced by Lee Fohl.

TRIBE CALLS FELLER TO COOL WHITE SOX

Chicago Uncorks 17 Hits To Blast Indians 11-2.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 26—The Cleveland Indians called on Bobby Feller, their pitching mainstay, today in an effort to silence the Chicago White Sox and snap a three-game losing streak for the Tribe.

Feller, who has allowed only two earned runs in 19 innings this season, beat the Sox 1 to 0, in a season opener at Chicago, but lost a 10-inning, 3 to 2 verdict to the Detroit Tigers last Sunday.

Joe Hayes, right hander, was given the mound assignment for Chicago. He has fully recovered from a broken ankle received last season.

Chicago pounded four Tribe hurlers yesterday for 17 hits in winning a 11 to 2 decision behind nine-hit pitching by Ed Lopat. Lopat, who made three singles in four trips to the plate, shut the Indians out until the eighth when a triple by Les Fleming drove in Pat Seerey.

Allie Reynolds started for Cleveland, but left in the third when a Chicago uprising produced five runs. Pete Center, Vic Johnson and Johnny Podgajny followed him to the mound.

Chicago sent another man home in the fifth and repeated in the seventh and eighth. Four hits in the ninth, including a triple by Thurman Tucker, added three more tallies.

Cleveland scored its second and final run in the final frame when Felix Mackiewicz singled to score Ray Mack.

Marion Golfers Jam Links In Peacetime Sports Boom

Golf in Marion is on the upswing. With most wartime hindrances removed, officials of both the Mar-O-Del and Country club courses report near-record attendance within the last two weeks. This is the first full peacetime season since 1941.

Clubs are still scarce but golf balls are beginning to be plentiful. All now used are synthetic but by June 1 both courses will have natural rubber balls.

The courses themselves are in the best shape for this time of year they have ever been. Mar-O-Del officials report their course is "in the best shape in the history of the course," while Country club officials describe theirs as A-1."

Just Like Summer

Both report heavy week day play with that at the Country club termed equal to mid-summer averages. April 14 the Country club had one of their biggest attendances on record, 80, while April 7 Mar-O-Del had 150 persons go around the course. Officials said that was the best figure in 10 years.

The return of veterans and, in the case of Mar-O-Del, an influx of out-of-towners is attributed as the cause of the jump in attendance. Women are out in greater numbers than ever before at both courses.

At Mar-O-Del for a short nine-hole round two scores of 35 have been turned in and Bud Baker, the club's professional, has turned in a 36. He holds the course record of 32. Par is 37.

At the Country club for the 18-hole round scores of 83, 93, 94 and 96 have been turned in. Par is 74.

While the Country club itself has not yet officially opened, the men's locker rooms will be open Saturday. Both pro shops report a land office business in the repairing of clubs.

Both Plan Improvements

Both clubs plan installing new equipment and the overhauling of old. Mar-O-Del has changed the water system and is expecting to receive two new fairway mowers in the near future. The Country club's equipment and installations will be thoroughly overhauled.

Tournaments at Mar-O-Del will probably start about Decoration day, officials said. While no dates have yet been set at Country club, Al Folaygi, the professional, is planning a series of tournaments to start when weather permits.

He has tentatively lined up blind bogey, flag, blind partners, poker hand, match play against par, sweepstakes, and mixed foursome tournaments.

St. Paul Hot After Millers for A.A. Lead

By The Associated Press

Eric Tipton's eighth inning grand slam home run yesterday put St. Paul right on the heels of Minneapolis for the American Association lead.

Tipton's circuit smash broke up a 4 to 4 tie between St. Paul and Kansas City, the Saints winning 9 to 5, to move into second place, a half game behind leading Minneapolis. Milwaukee jumped out of the cellar into sixth place by defeating the Millers, 3 to 0.

At Toledo, the Mud Hens made it three in a row beating Louisville 6 to 4 while at Columbus, Indianapolis pounded a 10 to 1 win over the Red Birds.

Harding Nine Blasts Galion 8-3; Thinclads Crushed by Pleasant 65-26

Baseball Banquet's Sponsors Yield To Clamor of Gal Fans

Carnival "Stag" Monday Night To Be Wide Open to Women Followers and Friends.

The power of the feminine side of sports is not to be ignored, Marion baseball leaders have learned.

Changing their original plan to keep the first annual baseball banquet at Masonic Temple Monday at 6:30 p. m. a stag affair, the hospitality council now announces women baseball fans would be admitted.

After announcement was made previously that women would not be admitted, the council was deluged with requests to relent.

Assuming that women make up the most rabid fans the council decided to let them in. This applies to scores of male fans likewise.

No Housing Problem

Judge W. Dexter Hazen, president of the local club, said today that contrary to reports there is no housing problem for the Marion Cardinals. All players who do not live near here are housed in private homes of local baseball fans.

Dayton too has solved its baseball players' housing problem. Lew Buck of that city last February offered to accommodate 15 players at his home. The Indians' management snapped up his offer and now the ball players are living at the Buck home—four to a room.

Browns are reported to be rather crowded but equipped with comfortable beds.

Zanesville Wins Again

Zanesville won another exhibition game Tuesday, taking Muskingum College 12 to 8. Last year's stars Maynard DeWitt and George Maraia participated. DeWitt got a single in five times at the plate while Maraia went hitless in two trips.

Bliss School granted six hits and two runs in the five innings he worked while southpaw Bill Huguenin gave up three hits and six runs in three innings. The game was called in the eighth because of rain.

ISSUES CHALLENGE

Henry Cotton, British Open golf champion now holding down two professional jobs in two countries, would like to challenge American golfers with Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan particularly in mind. He is now pro at the Royal Mid-Surrey in London and at the Monte Carlo in southern France. Always unorthodox in his ideas, Cotton has been golfing since his early 'teens.

Slugging Presidents Avoid Trouble After First Inning

By JIM DARBY

Harding's Prexies won their second baseball game of the season over Galion 8 to 3 yesterday at Galion. Owens, who went the seven inning distance, was credited with victory.

Harding started off well in the first inning with two runs. Weber, first man up, singled and then stole second. Brown struck out. Taylor walked and on a double steal took second while Weber headed for third. Lee came up and singled to score Weber and Taylor.

Galion made their only threat in the first. Tuscan singled, Price did likewise. Heskett hit a grounder and got on first on a fielder's choice while Tuscan was forced out at third.

Pitcher Hits Homer

Then McGuire, starting pitcher who batted in the clean-up spot, came up. He slammed one out of the park to score three runs. It was Galion's swan song.

Although Owens allowed seven more hits during the next six innings he was never in trouble again.

Harding got back in the ball game to stay in the fourth inning. Hill walked, Mitchell struck out, Huddle singled and Ralston blasted out a triple to score Hill and Huddle. A moment later he came in himself on Owens long fly to the outfield.

3 In Final Frame

The Prexies cinched the game in the last inning with three more runs. Brown and Taylor walked and came home on Lee's rousing double. Lee stole third base and came in on Hill's fly to right field.

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, April 26—The Crawford county district of the Knights of Columbus which includes Bucyrus, Galion, New Washington and Crestline held a meeting in Crestline Wednesday night when 50 candidates from the county were given the first degree.

Harry Breen, grand knight of Crestline K. of C. welcomed the group. The Bucyrus council put on the degree.

The same candidates will receive the second and third degree at another district meeting in New Washington May 12.

THANKS FANS—Capt. Charley Boswell, a member of the 1937, '38 and '39 Alabama football teams, will always remember the spring of 1946. Some 25,000 fans paid $1 each when Alabama climaxed its spring drills with an intrasquad game for Boswell's benefit.

Boswell lost his sight as a result of a German shell fired during the Battle of the Bulge, December, 1944.

In addition to the paid attendance, $4,360 in donations were realized. The Boswell Day Game was planned by the Birmingham News sports department and Alabama athletic officials.

Scheduled for three night shows are "The Mid-Western Hay Ride," "Hoaglan's Hippodrome Show" and "The Harmonaires," booked on Aug. 15, 16 and 17 respectively.

The shows will be presented on a stage in front of the grandstand. Plans are now being made to put additional seating facilities on either side of the grandstand.

Wilcox announced that improvements made recently on the grounds include remodeling of the grandstand and the repairing of the race track fence.

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, April 26 — The Bridgetts club met at the Greenlawn west of Crestline Wednesday night with Mrs. George Zellner as hostess. Score awards went to Mrs. C. P. Arter, Miss Anna Zimmerman and Mrs. Charles Gruminel. Miss Ann Zimmerman is hostess for May.

Morrow Co. Reports Election News Scarce

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, April 26—With the May 7 primaries less than two weeks away there appears to be very little interest in the coming Morrow county elections, Nelson Campbell, clerk of the election board, reports.

Reason for the quiet is believed due to the fact that there is only one local contest, J. Wesley Masters, incumbent, John W. Osborn and P. O. Van Sickle are all up for nomination on the Republican ballot for representative to the general assembly.

William McKinley Thomas is unopposed for the nomination for county commissioner and Harold Taylor is unopposed for the nomination for county auditor. Both are on the Republican primary ballot and are present holders of the offices.

Only one candidate is listed on the Democratic primary ballot as far county elections are concerned. John M. Benson is seeking the nomination for representative to the general assembly.

Benson and Osborn are both veterans of World War II and this is their first experience in politics.

SELECTIVE DEMAND LIFTS SOME STOCKS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 26—Selective demand continued to bolster parts of today's stock market although most steels, motors rails and industrial leaders backed into further losing territory

The persistent decline of government bonds again tended to chill inflationary psychology as a buying incentive The coal strike and with scattered exceptions, pessimistic first quarter statements also acted to restrain potential investors Individual situations inspired bids for favorites

Dealings slowed appreciably Losses of fractions to a point or so predominated near the fourth hour

United Biscuit jumped more than 3 points to a new high at 33½ on a favorable earning showing Third Avenue common pushed up on refinancing talk
